MEETING SET TO EXAMINE TENNESSEE NOMINATIONS TO NATIONAL REGISTER OF HISTORIC PLACES
MEMBERS OF THE PUBLIC INVITED TO ATTEND NASHVILLE MEETING ON JAN. 30

Nashville, Tenn. - The State Review Board will meet on Jan. 30 to examine Tennessee's newest proposed nominations to the National Register of Historic Places.

The meeting will be held at Clover Bottom Mansion at 2941 Lebanon Road in Nashville. It will begin at 9 a.m. CDT. The Board will vote on seven nominations from across the state. Those nominations that are found to meet the criteria will be sent for final approval to the National Register of Historic Places at the U.S. Department of the Interior.

The nominations are:

Bradley County: Cleveland Southern Railway Depot

Madison County: James Coble Monument

Marion County: McNabb Mines

Obion County: Patterson Hotel

Robertson County: Bell Witch Cave; Thomas Woodard Farm

Washington County: Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio Railroad Station and Depot

The Board also plans to re-assess Evergreen Place in Davidson County. The property is currently on the National Register, but has changed since that designation.

The State Review Board is composed of 13 people with backgrounds in American history, architecture, archaeology or related fields. It also includes members representing the public. The National Register program was authorized under the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966.

The public is invited to attend the meeting. For additional information, please contact Brian Beadles at (615) 532-1550, extension 125, or Brian.Beadles@state.tn.us.
